Dear Peter,

ENGINEERING CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY TRAINING & DEVELOPMENT AWARDS 2024

Back in June I wrote to all our overseas Licensed Training Providers inviting nominations for the "International Training Organisation of the Year Award", which is one of the awards that forms part of the annual Engineering Construction Industry Training & Development Awards. Nominations (there were 19 in total) have now been judged and this has provided 3 x regional winners. The overall winner will be selected from those three "finalists" and be announced at the Awards Ceremony on the evening of Tuesday 5th November at "One Marylebone" in London.

I am delighted to tell you that IACA has been selected as our Regional Winner for our East Africa and Rest of World region.

When deciding on the regional winners, a multitude of factors were considered by an ECITB panel, including delivery numbers, quality of training, time spent with the ECITB, demonstrating equality and diversity, innovation and ambition, interaction with the ECITB and generally value added within their respective markets. The panel felt that this year IACA was an exemplar for your region.

What next?

As a Regional Winner and finalist your company will be publicised in the main awards programme and on all other promotional literature surrounding the November event. You also have two complimentary tickets to the Awards where, if you are able to attend, you will be hosted by the Global Team. Accommodation in Central London will also be provided for the night but unfortunately travel to and from London has to be at your own expense. On the night itself the overall winner will be announced and invited onto the stage to be presented with the overall award trophy by the ECITB's CEO. In the event that you are unable to be represented at the evening please be assured that your ability to attend the ceremony will not be a consideration when deciding on the overall winner.

I have enclosed two digital badges which you are free to use from Monday 16th September in or on any IACA documents, promotional material, websites and e-mails etc. that you may choose. Your Regional Winner Trophy will either be given to you in person at the awards or if you're unable to attend, we will arrange delivery of it to you.

So, many congratulations to you. Either myself or Jason Riley will be in touch shortly to confirm further details regarding the Awards Ceremony but in the meantime, enjoy the win!

Kindest Regards,
